

A Foundation

Press Release

OPEN RESPONSE

Saturday 11 July 3pm to 6pm, free

Physical performers, dancers and improvisers taking part in the 23rd European Contact Improvisation Teachers Exchange at Edge Hill University will create a series of public performance events throughout the industrial spaces of A Foundation.

Contact Improvisation is growing throughout Europe, and is taught and applied in a large variety of places, from academic settings to festivals and therapeutic situations. The conference, ECITE09, is a celebration of this diversity, bringing together practitioners of varying experience, teaching-styles, ages, aesthetics and interests in order to exchange ideas and develop this multi-disciplinary art form.

The performance at A Foundation will present the public with some of the finest practitioners of contact improvisation from across Europe and use the challenging spaces of A Foundation's restored industrial galleries as inspiration and backdrop.

- ends -

For press information, interviews and pictures please contact Bryony Bond on 0151 706 0600 or 0777 613 0902

Visitor Information

A Foundation, 67 Greenland Street, Liverpool, L1 0BY
t.+44(0)151 706 0600 e.info@afoundation.co.uk w.www.afoundation.org.uk

Our galleries are open

Tuesday – Saturday 12pm - 6pm

Admission to exhibitions is FREE

Current Exhibition:

Daniel Pasteiner 3 July to 15 August 2009

Notes to Editors

A Foundation, Liverpool's major art centre, opened in September 2006. Located on Greenland Street (off Jamaica Street) in the city's Artists' Quarter, A Foundation consists of three enormous former industrial buildings that have been transformed into 2500 sq m of high quality exhibition space.

Image courtesy of Fetter Engel.